-----------------------	--------------	---------------------	--------------	---------------------	--------------	------------------------	------------

There was a reduction in both sheep and lamb numbers. The quality of the lambs was fair to good, however there were none of the extra heavy weights this week. There were limited numbers of young lambs available. The regular buyers were in attendance.

There was little change in the market trend for good quality medium and heavy trade weight lambs, however the secondary quality lots struggled to maintain last week's level. Lightweight trade lambs sold to a dearer trend. Heavy lambs sold to a slightly cheaper trend, although there was also a reduction in estimated weights.

A mixed quality penning of sheep with an outstanding line of heavy Merino ewes were a feature. With an improvement in quality the heavy ewes were dearer, while the balance of the sheep experienced little change.
