Lamb numbers were back and quality was fair to good. Around 4,000 new season lambs were offered. Old lambs were mostly trade and heavy weights with extra heavy lambs in short supply. Merinos made up the majority of the yarding in both lambs and hoggets. Not all the usual buyers were operating in a firm to cheaper market.

New season lambs were $3/head stronger on the light trades. The medium and heavy trade weights eased $1 on average ranging from $95 to $115/head to average between 470c and 485c/kg cwt. Heavy new season lambs made to $120.20/head.

Old lambs also sold to dearer prices for the lighter weights and firm to $5/head cheaper on the medium and heavy trade weights and heavy lambs. The medium and heavy trade weights sold from $82 to $113/head. Heavy lambs made from $108 to $126 and extra heavy lambs sold to $144/head. Merino lambs eased $3 to $4, receiving $70 to $100/head. Heavy hoggets mostly ranged from $78 to $100/head.

Sheep numbers eased and quality was good with large runs of heavy sheep penned. Competition was again strong on the lighter, medium weights which sold to a dearer trend but most other sheep eased $3 to $5/head. Medium weights mostly sold from $68 to $92/head. Heavy sheep to $102/head to average 310c to 335c, with the more sought after lines up to 370c/kg cwt.
