Numbers fell 33% with harvest underway. Ewe mutton made up the majority of the yarding with crossbred lambs, some shorn, in reasonable supply. Moderate numbers of Merino lambs and hoggets were also available. Quality remained similar with large numbers of light conditioned ewes and most lambs either light weight or store categories. Low numbers and competition from a strong field of restockers and processors with some selective live export demand saw all categories lift in price.

Light and store lambs to restockers made $35 to $81 up $5, while the Merino drafts made $35 to $66.50/head. Light lambs to processors sold from $71 to $93 to average close to $80, to be $5/head dearer. Trade lambs made $83 to $100, up $10, with heavy drafts to a top of $120/head and most lambs around 475c/kg cwt. Shorn lambs sold well with better trade lambs up $6, making $90 to $120/head.

Ewe prices were driven by solid restocker and processor competition. Light ewes made $30 to $58, with 2 score ewes to processors up close to $10, making $50 to $80, to average $66/head, or 295c/kg cwt. The 3 and 4 score ewes, including heavy weight drafts, made $63 to $86.50, also $10/head dearer and close to 290c/kg cwt. Restockers were strong on suitable longer wool drafts with sales from $62 to $91, up by close to $12/head. Merino ewe hogget sales were from $35 to $77/head, with both processors and restockers active.

Wether prices were dearer for export weight drafts with processors keen on young drafts. Heavy wethers made $77 to $88 with live exporters paying $70 to $80/head for suitable lines. Restockers and feeders paid $45 to $80/head for store and lighter drafts, equal to last week. Ram prices were solid, with ram lambs to $90 and younger drafts to export feeders from $30 to $60/head. Select drafts to live export made $68 and old drafts to processors sold between $10 and $35/head.
